

An update from Manulife Asset Management (Thailand)

Manulife Asset Management (Thailand) Company Limited is moving to a new ownership under King Wai Group (Thailand) Public Company Limited (“KWG”), a Stock Exchange of Thailand listed company in Thailand, subject to regulatory approval.

It will be business as usual for all parties that we work with. There will be no change to the operation and provisioning of the products we currently offer. For our funds, the research methodology, investment philosophy and our marketing support will also remain unchanged.

Our teams, under KWG, will continue to have access to Manulife Investment Management’s investment teams globally and regionally. Ultimately, we can assure you that end investors will remain completely unaffected.
